

February 2020

Insights for Driving Success

Healthcare is rapidly evolving across all of its subsectors - from senior living to behavioral health to emergency care. However, one area in particular is facing significant changes: addiction care. Increased demand for these services, largely driven by the opioid crisis, has brought new challenges for payors and providers as well as patients and their families.

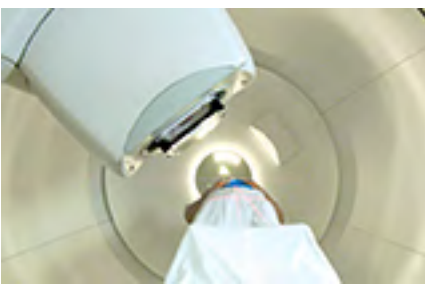

The Increasing Need for Addiction Care Facilities

See More >

In this month's Insights for Driving Success, we're sharing a few key statistics around the growing demand for addiction care facilities, which has been accompanied by regulatory and reimbursement changes and higher treatment costs. The result of these changes for many facilities has been additional financial stress. It's just one example of the new dynamics and shifts happening across the broader healthcare market.

You may also be interested in:

Takeaways from the Proton
Therapy Experiment

Read the Article >

Purchase Price Multiples and Healthcare Services

Watch the Video >

Reacting Quickly to Adversity in the Healthcare
Industry

Read the Case Study >